The water committee has recently leased a 15 horse power engine of Progress Blacksmith & Mfg. Co. to use at the Spring to pump water into the pipeline.

A new story entitled "The Scarlet Feather," commences in this issue. The story is very interesting and will be appreciated by all who care to read it.

Did you notice the difference in the electric lights on Broadway last week? It was much better City Fathers, but you neglected the other streets in town.

The Smith Orchestra made its debut on Monday night last, this orchestra consists of six pieces namely: Piano, Violin, Cornet, Clarinet, Trombone and Drums. Stay with it boys you do fine.

Arrangements are being made with the A. R. & I. to allow the Cardston students attending the Academy at Raymond, to travel to and fro on single fare. This will enable the students to spend the evenings at their respective homes.

—Alberta Star.

We are pleased to learn that our old friend D. H. Elton has taken over the Mayfair Pioneer. Although Mr. Elton is studying law at Lethbridge he will assume the Editorship of the paper. Mr. Spoor will still continue to manage all other work at the office.

The Halloween party given by the M. I. Ass'n at the Opera house on Friday evening was a grand success. The house was very nice, ly decorated and Pumpkin pie was served to all. There were present people from Magrath, Lethbridge and Stirling, also a large crowd of local people. All present reported a good time.

Last Monday night was the quietest Halloween in the history of Raymond. Six special police were stationed in different parts of the town, which had a tendency to keep the mischievous boys at home. It was remarked by some boys that "there was a Sherlock Holmes on every corner" and by others, "that they were as numerous as

On Saturday afternoon while driving along Broadway with a four horse outfit Mr. George Lye, cock lost his leaders in the trench in front of the Bank of Montreal. An Automobile going north on Broadway at a break neck speed frightened the leaders who wheeled to the right and fell into the trench and both died before they could be gotten out. This makes five horses that have been killed in this trench.

Every one should come out to the Opera House on the evening of Nov. 12, and enjoy the entertainment given by the M. I. A. Stake Boards for the Academy Gymnasium fund. Some of the best Local Talent are giving their services, and Mrs. Mattie Clark D'Arc, Alberta's sweetest song bird will render some choice selections.

Mr. Uriel O'Brien is organizing a Concert Orchestra with a view to putting on a concert some time during the Xmas. holidays. The Orchestra will consist of about eighteen pieces and will no doubt be made up of the following instruments: 1st, and 2nd Cornets, 1st, and 2nd Clarinets, 1st, and 2nd Trombones, 1st, and 2nd, Allos, Bass Viol, Cello, Piano, drums and Six 1st Violins.

This will be the first organization of its kind in Raymond and promises something new in line of musical entertainment for our townspeople.

It is well known that Frank Austin, who accidentally shot him self in the foot when out hunting near Cardston on Saturday, Oct. 22, died in the Galt Hospital on Sunday morning, from acute septicaemia, following gun shot wounds. He was brought into Lethbridge on Monday Oct. 24, and for a day or two it was thought that he would recover. Blood poisoning, however set in and he rapidly grew worse until he died on Sunday morning.

The body was shipped to Cardston yesterday and the funeral will take place there this afternoon. Deceased was born in Idaho forty three years ago and was the eldest of the Austin boys, who have been identified with stock raising around Cardston for years. Besides his brothers he leaves a wife and five children.

Deceased was married to his late Lethbridge friend.

Further interesting particulars regarding this work are given in the report above mentioned, which which is to be had free on application to R. H. Campbell, Superintendent of Forestry, Ottawa.

Tree Distribution

The work of free tree distribution to homesteaders on the prairie inaugurated in 1901 by the Forestry Branch of the Department of the Interior has made steady growth, and by the 1909 report of the Superintendent of Forestry (included in the annual report of the Department of the Interior, lately issued) is shown to be still on the increase.

For some years past the number of trees distributed each spring has been in the neighborhood of two and a half millions. The nursery station at Indian Head Sask., has reached about its capacity, and if the distribution is to be enlarged the nursery capacity must be correspondingly increased.

In the spring of 1909, 2,570,000 trees were sent to 2,019 applicants. In the spring of 1910 about the same number of trees were sent to 3,173 applicants.

The increase in the number of applicants is also strikingly shown by the fact that in 1908 the average number sent to each applicant was 1,400 while in 1910 the number had to be reduced to 800. The number of trees distributed remained practically the same. The number who received trees however increased from 1,424 in 1908 to 3,173 in 1910. In 1909, too, the number of new applicants for trees was 2,335, in 1910 this number had increased to 3,192.

It is well known that the growth of our maple and ash trees from seed causing much, however, be exercised as to where this seed comes from, and if possible, native seed be procured. In the summer of 1908 many Manitoba maples were found partially, during the preceding winter. These had been raised from seed obtained from Dakota, and to this fact their inability to resist the weather seems due. The Forestry Branch has previously distributed similar experiences with seed obtained from Minnesota and from Eastern Canada. Failure of the local supply of seed, however, occasionally makes it necessary to resort to imported seed.

Further interesting particulars regarding this work are given in the report above mentioned, which which is to be had free on application to R. H. Campbell, Superintendent of Forestry, Ottawa.

"Cast Thy Bread Upon The Waters,"

"Cast your bread upon the waters and after many days it shall return unto you"

In a thriving western town lived a would be tomorial artist' plying his trade and trusting to the patronage of the public for the where-with to build up and sustain a home.

In a neighboring State lived his sister, the daughter of his own father and mother. Her vocation, a trained nurse, a minister to suffering humanity. As she went forth in pursuance of her duties. The grim disease germs caught her Surgical help was necessary, she went through two operations and rallied sufficient to leave the hospital but not strong enough to resume her work. Says she "I will go to my brother, he has ample means to give me a home till I recover my strength sufficient to go to work." But would you believe it possible, he, calumniated by the sins of an evil world, judged evil of his sick sister and would not take her in.

Then says she "I have a younger brother in a neighboring town he was always kind, he will give me a home, a place where I can lay my head and rest till my strength returns." But alas, the defenseless brother believed hearsay without investigation and would not admit her to his home nor provide a place for her. What was she to do left alone in a strange town, her money exhausted. A good Samaritan whom she had not met till that day took her home and administered to her wants; other strangers whom she had not seen before came to her aid and gave her money to carry her to a distant State, where she had tried and true friends, among whom she would find a welcome home.

"The Great Master was at one time approached by self righteous men bringing a weak woman who had been caught in very sin, for which in the custom of that day she was to be stoned to death."

But He who could read the very hearts of men, without looking up said "You who are without guilt cast the first stone." When He raised His eyes, behold he and the woman were alone. "Go your way and sin no more," was the Father's words. This same Great Master also said "Judge not that ye be not judged; for with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged, and with what measure ye mete it shall be measured to you again."

Hard hearted brother whose poor sick sister put yourself up to judge, whom you turned out to the mercy of the world without even a kind word, think you that the fiat of the Great Master will not come home to you?

How would you like the bread that you this day cast upon the waters to return to you and yours?

Helen—why he yawned three times while I was talking to him!
Myrtle—Perhaps he wasn't yawning. He may have been trying to say something.

Everything in nature indulges in amusement. The lightning plays, the wind whistles, the thunder rolls, the snow flies, the waves leap and the fields smile.
Even the buds shoot and the rivers run.

A tramp in a starving condition asked for food at the kitchen of a house who employed a Chinese cook. "You likee fish?" "sure,"
replied the tramp. "All lite, come around Friday," said the Chink.

Some of our business men who set up a terrible howl about people sending orders to department stores, have all their stationery printed away from home to save five cents. "Consistency, thou art a jewel."

One Sunday Morning a minister's wife saw her son chasing the hens with a stick. She went to the door to investigate and heard him say: "I'll teach you to lay eggs in a minister's family on Sunday morning!"

We have just heard of a school man introducing a new feature in her school. When one of the girls miss a word the boy who spells it get permission to kiss her. The result is the girls are becoming poor spellers while the boys are improving right along.

Says an elderly man in his farmer's garb, "I want a little piece in your paper": Wanted a woman who can cook, wash, iron milk four cows and manage a market wagon" shall I state wages? "Wages nuttin'" "I want to marry her." Man wants but little here below.

A "girl" living not far from this city of rather ancient appearance, was asked why she did not marry. Her reply is practical.
If it is any thing. She said, "I have some money of my own have a parrot that can swear and a monkey that can chew. What need have I of a husband?" Can anybody answer this sensible female?—Ex.

One advantage of the passenger air ship is that passengers can easily drop off at any point without stopping the car.

The public schools deserve more attention than is usually given them. Parents as a rule regard their entire duty in this connection discharged in paying their tax and properly clothing and sending their children to school. There is reason to believe that many look upon the school room as a nursery to relieve them of their troublesome children.
The public schools cannot accomplish the full measure of their possibilities unless the parents join with teachers and directors in attention to pupils.

Two young ladies boarded a crowded street car and was obliged to stand. One of them to steady herself, took hold of what she supposed was her friends hand. They had stood thus for some time, when on looking down she discovered that she was holding a man's hand. Greatly em-barassed, she exclaimed: "Oh I've got the wrong hand!"

Whereupon the man, with a smile stretched forth his other hand, saying: Here is the other one miss."

A young woman was recently heard expatiating vigorously against the silly way that women have of kissing each other every time they get together. She said: "If twenty women were to meet in the street every last one of them would have to kiss the other nineteen, and there would be—let me see—380 kisses worse than thrown away, for probably in ten minutes the whole party would separate into squads and go off talking about each other.
When you see one of these violent miscellaneous, kiss-everything-in-sight kind of a woman it is safe to set her down as a fraud, which she generally is.
If I had my way, kissing should be confined to family use and for medicinal purposes. Now don't you put your name to this or I will kiss you right on Broadway the first chance I have."

SIGNALS OF DISTRESS

Sick kidneys give many signals of distress.

The secretions are dark, contain a sediment.

Passages are frequent, scanty painful.

Backache is constant day and night.

Headaches and kizzy spells are frequent.

The weakened kidneys need quick help.

Don't delay! Use a special kidney remedy.

Booth's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys, backache and urinary disorders.

Mrs. M. E. Parr of 272 John Street Stelton, Ont. says

I have found more actual results after using Booth's Kidney Pills than I did from any other remedy ever used.

I had suffered for several years with kidney and bladder trouble and after a short course of treatment with this medicine I have been cured.

Miserable pains across my back which would extend up my spine and into the back of my head, frequent headaches and dizziness and kidney secretions that were scanty and contained a heavy sediment had me all run down.

These troubles have all left me and I am pleased to give Booth's Kidney Pills my best wishes for success and my hearty endorsement.

A MONEY BACK HAIR GROWER & DANDRUFF CURE

Read what Mrs. H. Lawrence 168 W 17th Street, Holland Mich;

writes about the marvelous result obtained from the use of Parisian Sage, the delightful hair tonic, which is now on sale all over Canada.

"For several months my hair had been falling out, and dandruff also appeared. I used some so-called hair tonics and renewers, but never received any relief from the scalp disease until I procured Parisian Sage and used it for about two weeks. Parisian Sage made the hair stop falling out and caused it to grow in quite heavily, stopped the dandruff, and made the scalp cool, clean, comfortable, and does not make it stiff or sticky. I endorse the use of Parisian Sage. It is all right."

—Oct. 30, 1908.

McDuffie Bros. is the agent for Parisian Sage in Raymond and he thinks so well of it that he guarantees it to cure dandruff stop falling or splitting hair or itching of scalp in two weeks, or money back.

American Newspaper Comment on Canadian Immigration

THAT farmers emigrating to Canada "should buy round-trip tickets," is a sure bid to failure, according to the San Francisco Chronicle which carried a report that not only has the great tide of emigrating to Canada been checked, but that there is a distinct "back-to-the-States" movement. The Chronicle states that thousands of American settlers in the Canadian Northwest, Mr. C. J. Blomquist, statistician in the United States Immigration Service, is quoted as saying the daily press as having informed a large number of American farmers, who tried the Canadian experiment, but were unable to get back home. One of these men is said to have told Mr. Blomquist that "practically every American farmer in the neighborhood of Alberta, where the Canadian Government maintains an irrigation project, was anxious to get back (to the United States) because they could not see their holdings in the Dominion." We are further informed that over 15,000 of these farmers have returned in the last two months.

Some of the reasons why so many of the pilgrims who went to the northern end of milk and wheat are returning to civilization tired, disappointed, disillusioned, is, quote the Cleveland Plain Dealer, are thus set forth by the New Orleans Times-Democrat:

"The American settlers were disappointed with the character of the land, the crops from which they alleged commenced principally of alfalfa and clover, and no grain as winter wheat, and even these were not sure. The form of the land did not appeal to them, and they considered the railroad freight rates exorbitant. The climate was too cold, and of dissatisfaction, ice and snow in August and September made them glad to see their discontent."

The New York Times finds cause for satisfaction in the recent report of a movement which has sent over 300,000 American citizens to the Dominion of Canada in the last five years, 103,708 emigrating in the year ending March 31, 1910, according to Canadian reports. The Times accounts for the situation in the following manner:

"As speculation carried land prices in the West and in the border States to the highest figure ever recorded, it was not natural that by selling out at these inflated valuations and moving to the lands in Alberta, farmers would think they had bettered their lot. The fact that they still have a farm and some stock remaining after paying the purchase price, is to the farmers and the artificial condition which stimulated and favored this exodus, a serious drawback. Coming to an end, the wanderers began to take the home train."

In this connection it is somewhat interesting to note in the New York Herald's Washington dispatch of the 22nd inst. that the Canadian Government is anxious to attract American settlers to the Dominion.

It is a well-known fact that the Canadian Government, with its high figure of immigration, is a bulletin periodically, and may be said to be a Canadian Government and various railroads that American settlers are to sell their farms and take up cheap lands in Western Canada, declares the Louisville Courier-Journal. We are told further:

"But the Canadians seemed to tell that the stream of disappointed Americans who are leaving Canada and returning to their own country, is a sign of the success of the Canadian Government and various railroads that American settlers are to sell their farms and take up cheap lands in Western Canada, declares the Louisville Courier-Journal. We are told further:

"The underlying cause of the movement of American farmers to the Dominion is the fact that the Canadian Government is a bulletin periodically, and may be said to be a Canadian Government and various railroads that American settlers are to sell their farms and take up cheap lands in Western Canada, declares the Louisville Courier-Journal. We are told further:

EARL GREY'S SUCCESSFUL ADMINISTRATION IN CANADA

THE high position of Governor-General of the Dominion of Canada is by no means one of the most enviable for its occupant great difficulties to be overcome or avoided, severe criticism to be faced, and vigorous opposition to be met. He has, moreover, to follow men of wide experience in government, of considerable skill in statecraft, and of conspicuously high personal character. As Mr. J. C. Campbell, his remarks in the Canadian Magazine, few or none of the Governor-General "have passed through their periods of office without some unpleasant episode created by personal or party complications, the stress of a society and political system in the making, the old and flow of an imperial spirit which varied with almost bewildering changes. In the case of Earl Grey, whether it has been the case of some noble personal quality which makes for popularity and influence, or whether it is "that Can-ship; the fifth was quick and obvious recognition of the commercial, financial, and transportation needs of Canada. Within three months of his advent to office at Ottawa, Lord Grey skillfully touched upon the French-Canadian issue when addressing the Ottawa National English-Speaking Society, in the following words:

"It is with much pleasure that I am the object of your society is to connect your beautiful French language in all its purity, for the purpose of enabling you to render, in the most eloquent of expression, the human bond of brotherhood. The homages of your hearts to the French institutions and to the French people, and under which you enjoy a measure of liberty and security which I do not believe would be obtainable for you under any other rule."

In this French-Canadian connection mention must be made of the Quebec Trencher, "the most conspicuous and picturesque great of Lord Grey's tenacity," and the most remarkable testimony of Campbell's founding of Quebec, the Governor-General "looked to the idea and enlarged it into a movement to establish a great national park on the scene of Montserrat and the battle of the Plains, and turn a French-Canadian site into a national celebration of Canada's founding of Quebec."

Lord Grey is a firm believer in the future of Canada as a Dominion of the British Empire. He has presided for it within the last five years, and he has seen that of Britain; he has described it as a treasure-chest rather than an ice-box; he has said his lawyers.

"Harris" he said, "Glimo my $500,000."

"But—what's this for?" gasped Smith.

"All that's left, Mr. Smith," exclaimed the lawyer, "after deducting your share of the various expenses, and other expenses which will be duly repaid you at the expiration of the year." "Poor Smith! studied the bill for a long time."

"Say, what's the matter with this?" he demanded. "Is it bad?"

"It is not," said the lawyer, "but it is a long one."

ties desired for black belt land. Agricultural laborers in our South, and Mexican laborers in our West, are being sent to the tropics to a large extent, and prefer those with wide lands. The daily little straw hats with narrow brims afforded by city dwellers afford as much comfort at all the sun, and may be of great use in the tropics, as well as actual assistance in the shade. It is a great deal of good more knowledge of the tropics, and the tropics, and the fashions of our cities, which are much nearer the tropics than we realize.

Taylor Academy Notes

Instructor Wilford Woolf visited Cardston last Saturday, spending the time with his mother, who is up from Utah.

Director Ursenbach will organize his mandolin and guitar orchestra this week.

Horace H. Cummings, General Superintendent of Church Schools is a visitor this week. He made an impressive talk at Chapel.

Who says that President Heber S. Allen is not an untiring worker for the Taylor?

The new Chapel was used last Friday for the first time. Beautiful indeed!

The carpenters will turn over the building this week, pronounced by them to be complete. Good.

In all probability the Missionary Class, which is expected to open in November, will have an enrollment of about 30.

President Bramwell lectured in Raymond last Sunday night, his subject being, "Joseph Smith, was He Sent of God, considered from the Annals of American History?"

Presidents Allen and Wood and Superintendent Cummings paid the Calgary Normal a brief visit this week.

The missing parts of the heating plant have arrived, and the work of installation will be pushed vigorously.

Mrs. Baker of the piano and voice department, moved her studio into the building this week.

Instructor Pearl Wright, of the domestic arts, will have her department in full swing by the last of this week.

President Wood, of the Alberta State, furnished a fine desk for President's office, this week.

Already teachers and students have prepared several school songs and cheers, under the supervision of Director Ursenbach. One of these days the city will hear from The Taylor.

The music department will put on the opera "Katie Dean" within the next few weeks.

The Taylor invites friends and patrons to visit us, in chapel and class work.

The Taylor is not technically a Church School, that is, it is not exclusively so; but it opens its doors to Mormon, Non-Mormon, Gentile, and Jew alike. The Non-Members of the Church will not be required to take any theological instruction but may devote their exclusive time to the regular work of the Standards. Come friends, you are all welcome.

Keep your eye on the Taylor, Watch us grow.

The event of the season will be "The Beautiful Pagan" by H. A. Jones, author of "The Silver King," "The Middle Man" etc. Opera House, to night.
